Many Qualifying Activities Taking Place In The Mining Industry

There are a large number of SR&ED activities that are unclaimed in the Mining industry, and companies are losing out on substantial credits. Don't let the lack of SR&ED knowledge hold you back from claiming what is rightfully yours. Trust our expert team to guide your company to a stronger future.

Examples of Eligible SR&ED activities: (Mining Industry)

- Development of a process for re-entering existing vertical wells to convert them to horizontal wells.
- Construction and operation of a field pilot plant to obtain engineering and other data on applications, conditions, interactions, relationships, equipment, and environmental effects.
- Development of an in situ cyclic steam stimulation process for oil recovery from the Athabasca oil sands.

If you find your company currently takes part in any of these activities, then why wait to take advantage of the SR&ED tax credit program to receive healthy credit for your innovations?

You are only a few steps away from getting what your company truly deserves for creating, innovating, and developing new products and/or processes.

The Scientific Research and Experimental Development Program:

SR&ED incentives take the form of tax credits, and accelerated or additional tax deductions for expenditures made on research and development. Canadian businesses of all sizes, in all sectors are eligible to receive SR&ED tax credits. The incentives range from 20% of the expenditure, to almost 50% in favorable circumstances.

SR&ED expenditures can include wages, materials, machinery, equipment, overheads, and SR&ED contracts.
