Transform Your Developments

Textile Industries Using Innovative Software Now Receive SR&ED Credits.

More recently than ever the Textile industry has embarked on new increasingly innovated software technology to improve their productivity. This new technology has completely changed the textile sector for a long time to come. You have gone from having regional competition to Global in a very short period of time.

Examples of Eligible SR&ED activities: (Textile Industry)

- Develop experimental protocols and modeling tools to study absorption, spreading, and wetting of simple and complex fluids, including polymer solutions and biofluids, in and over fibrous substrates of different origin.
- Developing new production process.
- New production tools and equipment.
- Development of software.

If you find your company currently takes part in any of these activities, then why wait to take advantage of the SR&ED tax credit program to receive healthy credit for your innovations?

You are only a few steps away from getting what your company truly deserves for creating, innovating, and developing new products and/or processes.

The Scientific Research and Experimental Development Program:

SR&ED incentives take the form of tax credits, and accelerated or additional tax deductions for expenditures made on research and development. Canadian businesses of all sizes, in all sectors are eligible to receive SR&ED tax credits. The incentives range from 20% of the expenditure, to almost 50% in favorable circumstances.

SR&ED expenditures can include wages, materials, machinery, equipment, overheads, and SR&ED contracts.

Braithwaite Technology Consultants Inc. can assist you in obtaining tax credits for research and development activities. Whether your work involves basic research, applied research, or experimental development, Braithwaite can take the uncertainty out of the filing process and get you the credit you deserve for your innovation.
